

Roadside Attractions Submissions Outline

We accept submissions for projects in any media with the provision that it is suited to the confines of the space, the exception being two-dimensional work that may be better suited for wall or easel presentation.

Each exhibit is on display from the beginning of the month to its end.

We place free listings for each installation in various media. Each current month's show is prominently featured on our web page with a large image and statement regarding the work. Previous installations are archived with smaller images, crediting the artist and linking to their website. A monthly e-newsletter is sent out highlighting each installation.

Exhibiting at Roadside Attractions is absolutely free, however we cannot cover additional expenses (shipping; materials specific to the installation; fabrication of plinths; etc.).

Venue's dimensions: height 60"(152.4cm) x width 80"(203cm) tapering to 70"(177.8cm) toward the back) x depth 21"(53.3cm)

*There is a 1-inch wide channel running the length of the window on the floor of the space.

NOTES: The back enclosure is made of translucent white coroplast (corrugated plastic sheeting) supported by a 1 x 2 pine framework. We don't want holes in the coroplast but light items can be hung from the top of the wall, as well there are screw eyes in the ceiling that can take more weight to suspend objects. The space is limited but quite flexible. We can assist in all aspects of the installation but you must pay for any special materials needed.
